

Counting Bunnies Puzzle

ImagiPLAY $17.99

This puzzle is undeniably adorable, but can it hold a child's interest? In a word, yup. These rainbow hued hares make learning to count fun, but our group of kids found they are capable of much more than that!

The set-up: eight brightly colored wooden bunnies form a rainbow queue aiming to hippity-hop over to the tantalizing carrots. Although each bunny tucks snugly into the bunny in front of him, they rest on a backless wooden ledge, so it's a bit of balancing act.

And what can you do with eight numbered bunnies? Their bottoms are flat, so they can be stacked into bunny structures. Jumble up the pieces for a speed competition on number reordering. Hold a bunny race, each child competing with their bunnies racing for the carrot line. Our test group proved that the possibilities are endless when you provide a child with a quality toy.

Colorific Earth puzzles are handcrafted from environmentally friendly wood and painted with child-safe paints. These are sturdy, smooth and chip resistant. The high quality of this puzzle makes it the perfect candidate for a baby shower or birthday gift. You'll be the party guest who gets all the oohs and ahs and the "Where did you find that?" Don't we secretly all want to be that person?

If we're to create a brighter future for our world, we need to instill environmental awareness in our children. Green toys teach kids to think about where things come from and where they'll go—an early lesson in environmental responsibility and responsible buying. ImagiPLAY's heirloom toys are crafted from plantation-grown rubberwood, an eco-friendly hardwood. Rubber trees produce rubber sap for 25-30 years and then render us their second gift - beautiful hardwood. All natural and non-toxic.

More Colorific Earth puzzles:

Three Chicks

Count Octopus

Penguin and Chick

Stegosaurus